

MUS103 : Music History II

This course is a detailed study of styles and forms of music from the eighteenth-century to the present. Major compositions, personalities, styles, and forms are explored through structured listening, analysis, and reading assignments.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

ENL025: Reading & Writing Essentials or satisfactory basic skills assessment score

Semester Offered

Spring/odd

Notes

Satisfies a Humanities & Fine Arts general education requirement.