

PSY208 : Principles of Counseling & Crisis Intervention

Analysis of a variety of life crises, methods of effecting intervention, and procedures for establishing a counseling relationship when appropriate. Designed to introduce those now in, or preparing for, the helping professions or related paraprofessional positions, to the principles of effective crisis intervention and counseling.

Credits 3

Prerequisite Courses

PSY101: General Psychology

Semester Offered

Fall

Spring

Notes

Satisfies a Behavioral and Social Sciences general education requirement.