

FSR128 : Social Foundations of Funeral Service

This course introduces the history and evolution of the art and science of funeral service in North America. Students explore the relationship of social, religious, and spiritual beliefs, traditions, to funeral service practices and legal and ethical responsibilities of funeral service professionals.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

ENL108: Critical Reading & Thinking or satisfactory basic skills assessment score

Semester Offered

Fall