

PSY202 : Adolescent Psychology

Physical, emotional, intellectual, and social development of the human being during adolescence. Suggested for students planning to major in psychology, education, social work, or related areas.

Credits 3

Prerequisite Courses

PSY101: General Psychology

Semester Offered

Fall

Spring

Notes

Satisfies a Behavioral and Social Sciences general education requirement.