

SCI150 : Scientific Writing & Presentation

This course develops technical writing and presentation skills of students pursuing STEM careers. The course components are organized around: collection, evaluation, and organization of information from reliable sources; making critical summaries; writing a scientific/technical report in a recognized format (APA, MLA, IEEE, etc.); making oral and slide presentations with multimedia and poster presentations. Grammar, spelling, proofreading, and effective writing and presentation skills are emphasized.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

C- or higher in ENL101: English Composition I

Semester Offered

Spring

Notes

Satisfies an Interdisciplinary Studies General Education Elective.