

CRJ125 : Contemporary Policing

This course is a general overview of policing in the United States today, concentrating in history, organization – public and private – as well as personal issues, police operations, and critical and emerging issues.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

None

Semester Offered

Fall

Spring